

Wherever there

Christmas spirit

Mou'll find Keepsake Ornaments

The day arrives around the end of November. The air turns crisp, and there's a newly fallen snow. The first fire crackles in the fireplace. Tried and true holiday recipes are found.

Suddenly, there's much to be done. Christmas is on the way

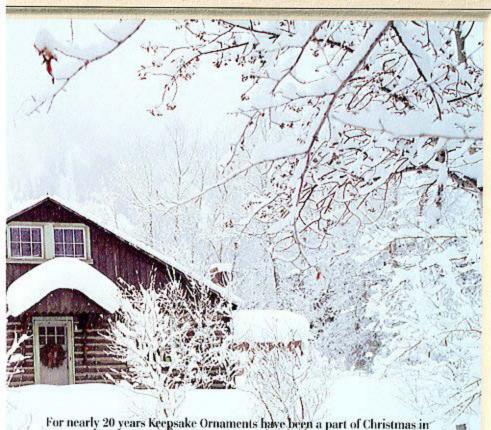

It seems we've found as many ways to celebrate this wondrous holiday as There are places on the map. In Georgia, a woman spoons up molasses and singer to bake loaves of old-time gingerbread for loved ones, as she has for as long as she can romember. Holly is cut fresh in Pennsylvania to add brilliant color to holiday decorations. And, outside homes all across New Mexico luminarias greet visitors and set the night aglow during the holidays.

For nearly 20 years Keepsake Ornaments have been a part of Christmas in homes from Alaska to Florida. You'll even find our ornaments in places as far away as Japan and France. After all, Christmas is observed around the world.

We invite you now to come see the 1992 Keepsake Ornaments at your local Hallmark store and make them a part of your holiday tradition. And no matter how or where you celebrate this joyous season, we hope our ornaments bring the spirit of Christmas to your little corner of the world.

Somehow the snowy days of December seem less long in the northwest once the brightly adorned tree and decorations go up. Children dance and giggle with anticipation. The whole family senses that Christmas can't be far off when the sweet and unmistakable aromas of ginger and freshcut pine mingle in the air.

Your entire family will enjoy our Collectible Series as they continue each year.
