Dream Book

I was the night before Christmas...

The night before the

The North Pole is a flurry of excited activity. There are still last-minute letters to be read, flight plans to be carefully arranged, and presents to be beautifully wrapped. The sleigh and reindeer are being readied, yet there is so much more to be done before... Christmas Eve. Only Santa is calm, cool, and collected. He's done this before...

Remember these dates:

night before Christmas

Imagine trimming Christmas trees year-round...that's what Hallmark Keepsake Ornament artists do. And once a year, they share their creations with you. Each lovingly crafted ornament is a small work of art, designed to become part of your own holiday tradition.

Ornament Premiere, July 21 / October Debut, October 6 & 7 / Holiday Open House, November 10 & 11

Frostlight Faeries

The Legend of the Frostlight Faeries

When starlight first twinkled on the frozen sea, a faerie was born from each tiny reflection. Like millions of sparklets, they rose upward and gathered at the earth's far north, where they formed the shimmering veil we know as the northern lights.

The most dazzling of the faeries became their queen, Aurora. "Let us share the loveliness of our sparkling light with the whole world!" she said.

And so, in the season when the earth grows cold, the Frostlight Faeries come down from the north, bringing their gifts of intricate snowflakes, filigree frost, and crystal icicles, still alight with the beauty of the stars.

When Faerie Candessa and all her bright sisters are dancing for joy in the frost-sparkled air, each one holds a snowflake that's woven of moonlight and brings it to earth with the greatest of care!

"Since I was a kid, I've been drawn to stories about miniature people in a big world. I loved working on these faeries. When people see faeries, they wonder if they've seen a flicker of light or something even more magical. It's almost like faeries are invisible little wonders that add glitter to snow and light to our wintry scenes."

Faerie Dust for Good Fortune

At the top of the earth, where the air is forever frosty, the Faeries are singing, singing for joy in the clear blue sky.

The magic of their songs is captured in frosty notes, like tiny sparkles floating off on the breeze. These sparkles collect on the wings of the Faeries, and for safekeeping, they shake off the sparkles into tiny velvet bags.

We call it Faerie Dust. And fortunate are those who come into possession of the songs of the Frostlight Faeries in the form of Faerie Dust! Sprinkled around any home, the magic is sure to bring goodness to life for a whole year!

Tip:

Use ornaments in unexpected places and in unexpected ways. Add to decorative jars in the kitchen, combine with garland on the backs of chairs, or use to frame a door. Bring in a garden trellis to use as a tree and have a winter garden theme.
